Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation™ Tactile Tour

Designed for guests who are blind or visually impaired, our Tactile Tours provide background and context on our collections as well as opportunities to touch artifacts such as the Rosa Parks Bus and Allegheny Locomotive and models of artifacts throughout the museum.

Tours take about an hour and a half and are included with the cost of admission.

Each tour is limited to five guests who are blind or visually impaired and up to two companions per guest. Other sighted companions are welcome to purchase tickets to the museum and explore on their own while these tours are taking place. Tour space is limited.

At least three weeks' advance notice is required to reserve a Tactile Tour.
