

Sensory-Friendly Hallowe'en in Greenfield Village

Social Narrative

I can't wait for Sunday, October 14! I get to go to Hallowe'en in Greenfield Village!

I can wear my Halloween costume if I would like to or I don't have to if I don't want to. I will need to leave any kind of sword, broom, weapon, or other sharp object at home for tonight.

We go over the rules for visiting Greenfield Village one more time when we get there:

1. Stay with my adult at ALL times.

2. Walk only. No running.

3. No touching anything without my adult's permission.

4. No climbing on anything unless my adult says it is ok.

If I get lost, I can go to a Greenfield Village worker and ask for help. To find a Greenfield Village worker, I look for someone who is handing out candy or selling something or wearing a police officer uniform.

There will be lots of people in Greenfield Village. They may stand close to me. I should not touch other people.

Some of the people will be wearing Halloween costumes. Some of the costumes may include bright or flashing lights.

If I am bothered by the people or lights, I need to tell my adult that I need a break.

We will make many stops throughout Greenfield Village tonight to get treats and watch shows. To get treats, we will walk by different characters. I will let my adult know if I am too scared to go near a character.

Our first stop of the night is to listen to a group of singing vampires called The Transylvania Trio. We stop and listen to them sing a song.

We next stop to watch the Grim Reaper. I will see a black-cloaked figure at a distance, walking near a fire. There will be other people watching too. If I am bothered by the show or crowds, I need to tell my adult.

Next is our first treat stop! I will see the Queen of Hearts and Alice from Alice in Wonderland! We may have to wait in line for treats. I will be patient, not touch other people, and let my adult know if I need a break.

Our next treat stop is just down the road. Here, I will find the Mad Hatter and March Hare.

After getting our treats, we will stop to watch the Top Hat Side Show. I can see people doing acts using fire or swords. There are lots of other people here. If I am bothered by the crowds or show, I need to tell my adult.

We will next see Madam ZaZa. She's a fortune teller!

We will now walk through a space about dreams and creatures under the bed. I will see pictures on buildings and a bed with a creature under it.

I can next stop to listen to a few songs from three witches known as the Potion Sisters or listen to the telling of the story of "Hansel & Gretel."

Our next treat stop is nearby. I will see the Bride of Frankenstein!

Up ahead, I see skeletons dancing and playing music! We stand and watch them for a while.

Next, we will come to a covered bridge. Fog and smoke are inside the bridge and it is dark. There is also a creature called a troll near the bridge. If I'm too scared to walk inside, I can walk along a path outside of the bridge. I do not get too close to the water under the bridge.

After walking over the bridge, we can stop for a snack break or we can keep walking. If we stop, we can watch a silent movie.

We will next walk by a row of scarecrows. I wonder if any of them will move!

I see another treat stop up ahead! It's a giant pumpkin.

I see a pumpkin patch and a pumpkin tree. I also hear some singing nearby. Could that really be singing pumpkins? It is!

Up ahead, I see a woman dressed all in white, standing on the balcony of a house. Nearby, I can listen to a story - either "The Tell-Tale Heart" or "Little Red Riding Hood."

After stopping for more treats – this time near a werewolf – we will watch a show with singing pirates. It may be crowded here, with lots of people and noise. I will not get too close to the water.

We will walk up a hill after the show. A mermaid will be there with treats. We will also see a cemetery. There is fog and smoke by the cemetery.

After walking by a Halloween market with brooms on display, I can take a break in the quiet area that is set up in the Village Pavilion. It has bean bag chairs and Halloween activities.

Our next treat stops have characters from The Wizard of Oz. I will see Dorothy and the Scarecrow and the Tin Man and Cowardly Lion.

We will walk through a haunted forest. It will be dark, there may be flashing lights, and the ground may be uneven. I will tell my adult if I am too scared to walk through the forest. We can walk around it. Right after walking through the forest, we may see a couple of Flying Monkeys from The Wizard of Oz.

Our last treat stops are up ahead. I see the Wicked Witch and Glinda the Good Witch from The Wizard of Oz.

Our last stop of the night is to see the Headless Horseman. I see lots of other people watching. We watch too. If I am bothered by the crowds or show, I need to tell my adult.

After this stop, my visit to Hallowe'en in Greenfield Village has come to an end. I had a great time and can't wait to come back next year!

Special thanks to Ford Motor Company for sponsoring the tickets for Sensory-Friendly Hallowe'en.
