

The World of Charles & Ray Eames

Through September 3, Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation

Get an inside look at hundreds of creations from 20th-century design icons Charles and Ray Eames. From furniture to architecture, trace the output of the Eames Office back to the early days of postwar modernism, and prepare to make your own movement.

Salute to America

June 30, July 1, 3 and 4, Greenfield Village

Join us for our quintessential Fourth of July celebration with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra where Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture booms with authentic cannon fire under a canopy of fireworks.

Special ticket required.

Maker Faire® Detroit

July 28-29, The Henry Ford

Find your next obsession on a wild journey through the brilliant and sometimes outlandish creations of hundreds of inventors, innovators and hackers. Twelve acres, bursting with smart, family-friendly fun, will leave you reeling and ruminating long after the two-day festival is over.

Special ticket required.

Motor Muster June 16-17, Greenfield Village

Kick summer into high gear this Father's Day weekend in Greenfield Village. Motor Muster, one of the country's most important historic vehicle shows, serves one purpose: to transport you to the golden era of car culture — the 1930s to the 1970s. Your road to inspiration starts here.

Sensory-Friendly Saturday June 23, Ford Rouge Factory Tour

Sensory-Friendly Saturday is designed for guests on the autism spectrum and those with other sensory processing disorders. For this event, a variety of accommodations, activities and more will create an inclusive, welcoming and safe space for our guests. Special ticket required.

Historic Base Ball Games June 9–August 19, Greenfield Village

Take your peanuts and Cracker Jack to 1867 as the Greenfield Village Lah-De-Dahs play by early base ball rules. No gloves and no Major League contracts. Live music on select days.
