Adapted from “Greenfield Village Sights — Sounds — Smells — A Sensory Overview” created in collaboration with the Autism Alliance of Michigan.

I am going to Greenfield Village.

Greenfield Village is a very large place with many buildings to visit. It may be crowded at Greenfield Village, particularly if an event is happening.

My parents or the person who brought me go over the Greenfield Village rules one more time when we get there.

- 1 I STAY with my parents or the person who brought me at ALL times.
- 2 I only WALK at Greenfield Village. No running.
- 3 NO TOUCHING anything unless I am told that it is OK.
- 4 NO CLIMBING on anything unless I am told that it is OK.
- 5 I NEVER go in ponds or other water at Greenfield Village.
- 6 IF I GET LOST, I go to the place where my mom, dad or the person that I came with told me to wait. I can also find a worker at Greenfield Village and tell him or her that I am lost. He or she will help me find my parents or the person that I came with.

Welcome

When I arrive at GREENFIELD VILLAGE, I will see a big brick building with windows. I may also see lines of people waiting to go into Greenfield Village and buses with people getting on and off. It might be very loud and people may be standing close to me. I can ask for earplugs or noise-canceling headphones at this building. I can also use the restroom in the back of the building if I would like.

Behind this building, I will see a large, spraying FOUNTAIN of water. It shoots really high in the air and falls back down. I might feel splashes and hear the sound of the water going up and down. I can sit on the outside edge of the fountain, but I cannot go into the fountain.

On one side of the plaza in front of Greenfield Village is the GREENFIELD VILLAGE STORE. It is a big brick building with windows. Inside there are things to buy, like clothes and toys. It may be crowded in the store. I can only touch what my mom or dad says is OK to touch. I need to be careful not to break anything in the store.

Josephine Ford Plaza

When entering Greenfield Village, I will see brick columns separating entryways. I have to walk through one of these entryways to get in. There may be lines of people and I have to wait my turn. I will show my ticket to the Greenfield Village worker so that he or she can scan it.

Right after I enter Greenfield Village, I may see a train. I will also see

A STATION WHERE THE TRAIN STOPS. My parents or the person that I came with can buy a ticket so that we can ride on the train. I may see lines of people waiting and smoke from the train. The train/locomotive also can produce strong smells.

I might hear very loud train whistles and feel the ground shaking from the train. I may want to wear earplugs or noise-canceling headphones.

I will pass by two buildings on my way into Greenfield Village. One is light blue. This is the SOYBEAN LAB AGRICULTURAL GALLERY.

There are pieces of machinery in here. The other building is yellow. This is the RICHART WAGON SHOP. In this building, I will hear a recorded voice talking and will see wagon parts. I should not go up the ramp on the side of this building.

Working Farms District

On my way to FIRESTONE FARM, I will pass by fields that have different kinds of crops, such as corn and pumpkins. I may see people working in the fields and farm animals. At Firestone Farm, I will see a farmhouse. Inside, I may see workers making food. There is a big stove in the kitchen—it is HOT! I do not touch the stove. I will see animals outside of the house and I will see a barn. I will not touch any of the animals and will not get too close to them. I may hear the animals making sounds and I may smell them. It may be crowded in this area.

Between Firestone Farm and Liberty Craftworks, I will pass by a red building. This is a CIDER MILL. I can go inside and look at machines used to make apple cider.

Railroad Junction District

I will see a big building with tall doors that look like open garage doors. This is the DETROIT, TOLEDO & MILWAUKEE ROUNDHOUSE. This is where trains are taken care of by workers. I may see train engineers, train tracks and trains next to each other in this building. I might hear the trains blowing their whistles and someone talking about the trains. I may smell steam from the trains. In front of the Roundhouse, I will see a big piece of railroad track that turns. This track will turn to the garage doors so that trains can get in and out of the Roundhouse. I may hear squeaking when this track turns.

At EDISON ILLUMINATING COMPANY'S STATION A, I will see machinery and hear a recorded voice talking about the building.

If I want to ride on the train, I can go to the train platform near SMITHS CREEK DEPOT. I might hear the trains blowing their whistles and smell steam from the trains. I can never touch the trains when they are moving or go onto the train tracks. This is dangerous and I could get hurt. I need to stay with my parents or the person who brought me.
